

Oslo 2000

19th International Congress of Historical Sciences XIXe Congrès International des Sciences Historiques 6. bis 13. August 2000 in Oslo

Aus dem Programm des Internationalen Kongresses der Geschichtswissenschaften vom 6. bis 13. August 2000 in Oslo, an dem die Internationale Gesellschaft für Geschichtsdidaktik beteiligt ist:

22. International Society for History Didactics

Friday 11 August 09:00 - 12:00, 14:00 - 17:00

Saturday 12 August, 09:00 - 12:00

Historical Consciousness and History Teaching in a Globalizing Society

- From Local History to World History
- How do we get Along with History?
- History as a Social Memory and the Horizon for the Future

Mitglieder unserer Gesellschaft sind an dem Round Table „The Teaching of History: New Techniques, Textbooks and the Place of History in the Curriculum“ beteiligt:

Thursday, 10 August, 9:00 - 12:00

Organiser: Magne Angvik, Norway, Co-organiser: Gary Nash, USA , Discussant: Bodo von Borries, Germany

Papers:

- Gordon R. Mork, USA (What Constitutes Controversial Topics in History Teaching?)
- Nicole Tutiaux-Guillon, France (Theoretical Approach of French School History: Why No Controversial Historical Topics?)
- Victor Nemchinov, Russia (Teaching and History Education Against Growing Ethnic Violence: Bringing Unbiased Discourse to School Classes)
- Nicolás Cruz, Chile (Teaching History in Mercosur countries: From Homogeneity to "Diversity" and "Integration")
- Robert Martineau, Canada (Teaching Historical Thinking: Preparing Students to Deal with Controversial History)
- Peter Lee, UK (Opinion Versus Methodology: Students' Understanding of Historical Disagreement)
- Joke van der Leeuw-Roord, the Netherlands (Controversial History Teaching, a Hazardous Challenge for the European History Teacher)